

How to Love

oliviaap99 asks:

What if the person you're with seems like they're falling out of love?

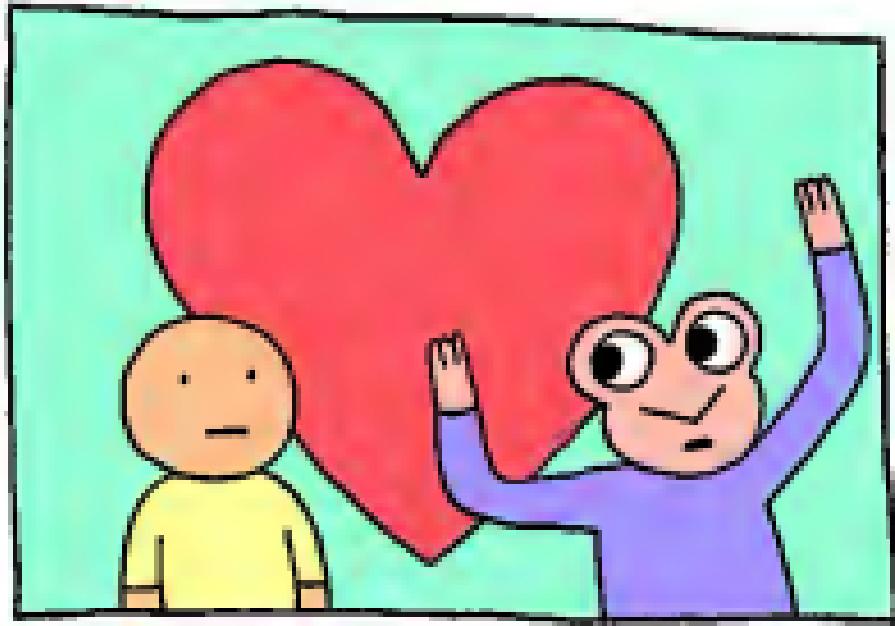

At some point in the relationship

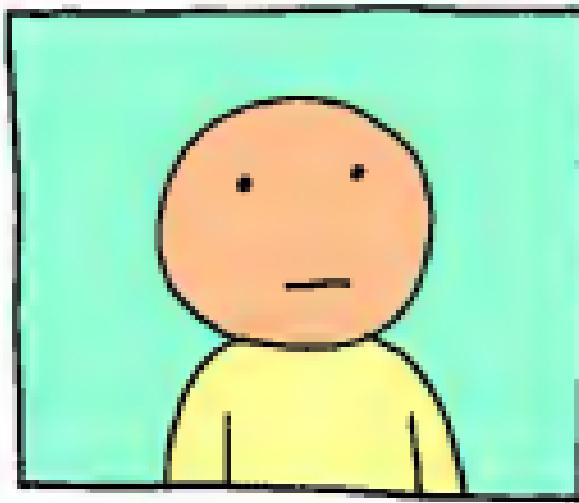

To solve this,
you could ask them directly

one may seem less into it than the other.

Even though you know them well it may be difficult to tell how they feel.

When you see your lover becoming closed off...

or do something to shake up the relationship.

but then you will become two bored & disconnected people avoiding change.

it may be tempting to
also become closed off,
and protect your feelings
